

Mark Lindquist

Birth date:

Country of origin:  United States

Primary Occupation: Sculptor

Secondary Occupation:

Spouse(s):

People Research

Early Life

¹ Mark Lindquist (born 1949) is an American sculptor in wood, artist, author, and photographer. Lindquist is a major figure in the redirection and resurgence of woodturning in the United States beginning in the early 1970s. His communication of his ideas through teaching, writing, and exhibiting, has resulted in many of his pioneering aesthetics and techniques becoming common practice. In the exhibition catalog for a 1995 retrospective of Lindquist's works at the Renwick Gallery of the Smithsonian American Art Museum, his contributions to woodturning and wood sculpture are described as "so profound and far-reaching that they have reconstituted the field". He has often been credited with being the first turner to synthesize the disparate and diverse influences of the craft field with that of the fine arts world.

Later Life

Enter your factual information of your research subjects later life, such as extended education, military service, marriages, children, residence, a career path, and associations, etc. Replace this text with your own.

Career

"Enter your factual information of your research subjects career(s), most likely something in woodworking or the related disciplines, what did he or she specialize in, what did they enjoy doing, what impact did their career choice have on the arts and crafts and industry of woodworking, etc. Replace this text with your own. "

Image Gallery

"Place images of interest here. Of course you can place images anywhere on this page, this is only a suggestion. Replace this text with your images."

Quotes

Your research subject most likely has some great quotes either published or widely used, place those here. Replace this text with your own.

Publications

Place the book titles and links here, these book titles and links should be literature that was created by your research subject. Replace this text with your own.

Further Reading

Place the book titles and links here, these book titles and links should be literature that was created about your research subject. Replace this text with your own.

External Links

Links that are related directly to your subject, these links should take the viewer to news articles, obituary, news reels or columns, documentaries, and other media depicting your research subject. Replace this text with your own.

References

¹ Wikipedia contributors. "Mark Lindquist (sculptor)." Wikipedia, The Free Encyclopedia. Wikipedia, The Free Encyclopedia, 21 Oct. 2019. Web. 27 Oct. 2019.

Bibliography

<HR>

You are free to:

- Share — copy and redistribute the material in any medium or format
- Adapt — remix, transform, and build upon the material

The licensor cannot revoke these freedoms as long as you follow the license terms.

Under the following terms:

- Attribution — You must give appropriate credit, provide a link to the license, and indicate if changes were made. You may do so in any reasonable manner, but not in any way that suggests the licensor endorses you or your use.
- NonCommercial — You may not use the material for commercial purposes.
- ShareAlike — If you remix, transform, or build upon the material, you must distribute your contributions under the same license as the original.
- No additional restrictions — You may not apply legal terms or technological measures that legally restrict others from doing anything the license permits.

Notices:

You do not have to comply with the license for elements of the material in the public domain or where your use is permitted by an applicable exception or limitation.

No warranties are given. The license may not give you all of the permissions necessary for your intended use. For example, other rights such as publicity, privacy, or moral rights may limit how you use the material.

Above all

We just want you to enjoy the information here, we hope you find it useful and educational. Please use the content within this woodworking wiki in the spirit of sharing, collaboration and research. An open web benefits all!

The Patriot Woodwiki by The Patriot Woodworker Community is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-ShareAlike 4.0 International License.

